—Mr. Editor: In your paper of June 28, I noticed a letter from Jessie Davis, Shannon, Lee county, Miss., in which she says she would like to know the history of the poem, "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight." I will send this sketch. I do not know whether it is a true history or not, but as the poem is universally admired, and has once found a place in the columns of the Courier-Journal, I hope Jessie Distory or not, but as the poem is universally admired, and has once found a place in the columns of the Courier-Journal, I hope Jessie Distory or not, but as the poem is universally admired, and has once found a place in the columns of the Courier-Journal, I hope Jessie Distory or not, but as the poem is universally admired, and has once found a place in the columns of the Courier-Journal, I hope Jessie Distory or not, but as the poem is universally admired, and has once found a place in the columns of the Courier-Journal, I hope Jessie Distory or not, but as the poem is universally admired, and has once found a place in the columns of the Courier-Journal, I hope Jessie Distory or not, but as the poem is universally admired, and has once found a place in the columns of the Courier-Journal, I hope Jessie Distory or not, but as the poem is universally admired, and has once found a place in the columns of the Courier-Journal, I hope Jessie Distory or not, but as the poem is universally admired, and has once form the severe of form these by the most faithed up to God for Richard's deliverance from the black or the sea coast there was little hope. > DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR WOMAN'S BEST PRIEND.

It is well known to physicians, and alas it too well known to suffering women themselves, that they are subject to numerous diseases peculiar to their sex, such as suppression of the Menses, painful and scanty Menstruction, Congestion, Ulceration and Fulling of the Womb, attended with an endless train of sympathetic and constitutional disorders, which embitters the whole fife, and which have long been considered as almost incurable. But at last the remedy has been found in Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator.

It is not a "cure all," but a remedy for one class of diseases, all of which pertain it the Womb.

Any sufferer from the disease mentioned can take this remedy, and thus relieve herself without revealing her condition to shy one, and without subjecting her womanly modesty to the shock of an examination by a physician.

which gives ease for pain, joy for sorrow, smiles for tears, the rose of health for the pallor of disease, the light, elastic stop for dragging wearyness, nights of soft repose for heavy hours of tossing restlesaness, bounding vigor for languishing duliness, the sweet lines of full-grown beauty for the sharp and withered form of emacistics, a long life of mental, physical, social and domestic enjoyments for a few sad days of pain and gloom, ending in an early grave? Such is the mission, such are the results of Dr. J. Heappunk France. DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REQULATOR DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REQULATOR, which is hence truly and appropriately styled "Woman's Best Friend."

"Whites" and all those irregularities of the womb so destructive to the health, happiness and beauty of women, disappear like magic before a single hottle of this wonderful compound.

All who suffer from any of these diseases are most earnestly invited to give this great remedy a trial. It has cured thousands, and will cure you. Don't fail to try it.

Diseases of the Throat and Lungs In diseases of the pulmonary organs a safe and reliable remedy is invalples and curativ CHERRY PECTORAL.

the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt relief and rapid cures, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily. In ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of Avan's Causary Protonate are magical, and multitudes are annually pressived from serious Illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful.

Low prices are inducements to try some of the many mixtures or syrups, made of cheap and inaffective ingredients, now affered, which, as they contain no curativa qualities, can afford made of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no curative qualities, can afford only temporary relief, and are sure to disappoint the patient. Diseases of the threat and lamps demand active and effective treatment; and it is damperous experimenting with unknown and cheap medicines, from the great liability that these diseases may, while so trilled with, become deeply seated or incurable. Use Aven's Cherry Protesta, and you may confidently expect the best results.
It is of acknowledged curative power,
and is as cheap as its careful preparation and fine ingredients will allow. Eminent physicians, knowing its composition, prescribe it. The test of half a century has proven its certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.
